MAKING PLANS FOR BOAT CLUB

First Regiment May Get Site on Mayo's Island, and Organize Soon.

Probably within a month, the First Virginia Regiment will have completed plans for opening a boat club on Mayo's Island, the membership of which will be confined to members of the four companies at Richmond. Lieutenant Cousins, manager of athletics, conceived the idea of organizing the boat club, and many of his fellow officers have entered with him to make the enterprise a success.

It is stated that the regiment will make no effort to purchase a site at the start, but hopes by next season to build a comfortable home, and be prepared to enter crews against representatives of the Virginia Boat Club. The announcement has already been made that Richmond College will be extended the courtesies of the Virginia club house, and with the regiment represented by oarsmen, this city will see something it has never enjoyed before--three organized crews racing abreast on the James River.

Manager Cousins says he has no idea that he will be able to have a trained crew capable of competing with the trained oarsmen of the Virginia crew this spring, but he hopes in taking preliminary steps to enter the men, and aside from this advantage he thinks he can keep the companies together better during the summer months, when it is too warm to drill within doors.

The regiment is endeavoring to secure an option on a house on the upper part of the island, and as soon as the lease has been signed, a call will be issued at the armory for a general discussion of the plans.

FOUR PITCHERS FOR W. & L. TEAM

[Special to The Times-Dispatch.]

Lexington, Va., March 22.--The more favorable weather conditions of the last few days have enabled Coach Kenyon to get harder and faster work out of the Washington and Lee ball-boys.

Practice games have been played every afternoon, and to-day Moran and Elford, as opposing pitchers, showed good form. Gwathmey is working well, and when Parades gets into commission the varsity will be in good shape with her four strong slayers.

The infielders are handling themselves better, and all the men in the outfield are covering in a grand way. Batting practice is the feature of each day's work, and it looks as if the batsmen are getting good use of the stick. The team should be in good shape for the first game with Holy Cross Saturday.

TRINITY COLLEGE TEAM HAS GAMES IN VIRGINIA

Trinity College, Durham, N. C., March 22.--The baseball season this year at Trinity College promises to be an unusual interesting one from every standpoint. Manager "Senator" Crawford has arranged for nineteen games to be played on the home diamond. This is perhaps the largest number of home games ever scheduled for the home diamond. There is a great deal of enthusiasm being displayed at the probable outcome of the games with the Philadelphia Nationals to be played Saturday.

Trinity is a member of the S. I. C. and has not been possible for her to play many of the neighboring colleges during the past few years. This year, however, three games have been scheduled with Wake Forest, an efficient captain and a heady ball player, has been shifted from third to first, leaving Houtson a new and a mighty handy with the willow and a fast infielder to take his place. Bundy, who bids fair to lead the team in batting, is covering second with the best of his class. Claude West is back at short, and is playing hard, taking chances on everything in sight.

In the out garden will be Foushee, Williams, Harris and Cooper, the latter player causing the "Yanks" during the recent games played at Southern Pines with the Philadelphia Nationals to protest loudly at the idea of him not being a professional. "You can't fool me," said one of the Philadelphia players, "I have been playing ball too long not to know a leaver when I see him." "Pooch" Foushee is again behind the bat, and is in the game all the time and for all it is worth, while Freshman Sprague is for being a new and a mighty handy with the willow and a fast infielder to take his place. Bundy, who bids fair to lead the team in batting, is covering second with the best of his class. Claude West is back at short, and is playing hard, taking chances on everything in sight.

The manager has tabulated the following games as yet, however, all of the games for the Southern trip have not been arranged:
